

MEET SOLARIS

Meet Solaris—the 100% solar powered tour boat! Built by the Hudson River Maritime Museum’s restoration crew, this is the only solar-powered commercial vessel on the Hudson River.

The Hudson River is an incubator for transportation innovation. From early Dutch settlers improving sloop designs for the river’s tidal nature to the great Hudson River steamboats, the way we travel has always been influenced by innovators of the Hudson.

Solaris can accommodate up to 24 passengers for chartered cruises, lighthouse tours, field trips, and other on-the-water programming.

Purchase of this vessel was made possible with the support of Scenic Hudson, the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation, Sustainable Energy Corp and generous donations from individual donors.
